When Edward Kleinhans and Mary Seaton Kleinhans passed away suddenly in 1934, they left a gift to the Community Foundation for Greater Buffalo with instructions to build a music hall for our community. The Community Foundation ensured that Kleinhans Music Hall was built according to their wishes and today, their gift continues to provide a home for world-class performances.

To learn more about the Kleinhans and how they continue to support WNY nearly 90 years after their lifetimes, scan the QR code below or visit cfgb.org.
As we find ourselves amid this vibrant, celebratory concert season, I’d like to highlight some of the wonderful successes of our orchestra so far, and the exciting milestones that lie ahead. Year after year, our orchestra’s sound resonates and inspires audiences beyond the stage of Kleinhans. With the pandemic concert restrictions behind us, this season has an especially notable impact on students throughout Buffalo Niagara.

I am proud to report that since the season’s opening, our orchestra has performed for over 6,000 Buffalo Public Schools students, and an additional 1,000 students from counties across the region, via Friday morning performances and the Music for Youth concert series. Over 600 middle and high school students attended the Pops series opening, with the orchestra’s very first Teen Night garnering over 50 students for a pre-concert event with a special opportunity to meet BPO musicians. Nearly 250 high school students are Symphony Hall Pass holders, experiencing live orchestral music on a regular basis.

By season’s end, the orchestra aims to engage over 25,000 students through the Music for Youth concert series, with every Buffalo Public Schools student between grade levels 1-6 having attended a concert at Kleinhans. In addition, through the Community Spotlight series, over 600 student performers will have been showcased in the Mary Seaton Room before BPO performances.

The orchestra’s outreach extends beyond school programs. The first BPO Kids family concert welcomed over 1,000 attendees with an accessible flat ticket rate. Looking ahead, the orchestra has added a second Exceptional Holiday performance this season for individuals with disabilities, due to high demand and last season’s sellout performance.

These achievements are a testament to our orchestra’s commitment to the community, which we can all be proud of. By sharing musical experiences with the next generation, we’re not only preserving the legacy of orchestral music; we’re sculpting its future. In the spirit of Thanksgiving, I wish to extend my thanks for your continued support, and for being an integral part of making these concerts – and their impact – possible. Let’s continue to make this season a memorable symphony of learning, connection, and inspiration.

Sincerely,

HISTORY OF THE BUFFALO PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA

As Buffalo’s cultural ambassador, the Grammy Award-winning Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra under Music Director JoAnn Falletta presents more than 120 Classics, Pops, Rock, Family and Youth concerts each year.

After the rise and fall of several forerunners, the BPO was founded in 1935, performing most often at the Elmwood Music Hall. The hall was located at Elmwood Ave. and Virginia St., and was demolished in 1938 as the BPO’s permanent home, Kleinhans Music Hall, was constructed. During the Great Depression, the orchestra was initially supported by funds from the Works Progress Administration and the Emergency Relief Bureau. Over the decades, the orchestra has matured in stature under outstanding conductors including William Steinberg, Josef Krips, Lukas Foss, Michael Tilson Thomas, Maximiano Valdés, Semyon Bychkov, and Julius Rudel. The orchestra has welcomed many distinguished guest performers such as Isaac Stern, Aaron Copland, Van Cliburn, Igor Stravinsky, Renée Fleming, and Yo-Yo Ma. During the tenure of JoAnn Falletta, who has served as music director since 1998, the BPO has rekindled its history of radio broadcasts and recordings, including the release of 61 albums.

The BPO’s Naxos recording of composer John Corigliano’s “Mr. Tambourine Man: Seven Poems of Bob Dylan” won two Grammys, and their Naxos recording of Richard Danielpour’s “The Passion of Yeshua” with the Buffalo Philharmonic Chorus won one Grammy. Their recordings are heard on classical radio worldwide.

HISTORY OF KLEINHANS MUSIC HALL

Since 1940, the orchestra’s home has been Kleinhans Music Hall, which enjoys an international reputation as one of the finest concert halls in the world due to its superb acoustics.

Kleinhans Music Hall was built thanks to the generosity and vision of Edward and Mary Seaton Kleinhans and the stewardship of their charitable dreams by the Community Foundation for Greater Buffalo, and the support of the federal government. The Community Foundation was bequeathed the estates of Mr. and Mrs. Kleinhans, who made their fortune from the clothing store that bore their name, and who died within three months of each other in 1934. The Public Works Administration, an agency of the New Deal, provided crucial funding that made it possible to complete the hall.

The Kleinhanses, who were music lovers, specified their money was to be used “to erect a suitable music hall…for the use, enjoyment and benefit of the people of the City of Buffalo.”

The BPO performed at Kleinhans Music Hall’s official opening on Oct. 12, 1940, under the baton of Franco Autori.

Kleinhans Music Hall was designed by the Finnish father-and-son team of Eliel and Eero Saarinen, along with architects F.J. and W.A. Kidd. Kleinhans is known for its combination of graceful structural beauty and extraordinary acoustics. Eliel Saarinen’s aim was to create “an architectural atmosphere…so as to tune the performers and the public alike into a proper mood of performance and receptiveness, respectively.” In 1989, the hall was designated a National Historic Landmark, the highest designation of significance a site or structure can receive.

Kleinhans is owned by the City of Buffalo and operated by a separate 501(c)(3) non-profit organization. The Board of Directors is comprised of Jeremy Oczek, Chair; Karen Arrison, Vice Chair; Peter Eliopoulos, Treasurer; Tania Werbizky, Secretary; Cindy Abbott Letro; Akruti Babaria; and city officials including Byron Brown, Mayor of the City of Buffalo, and David Rivera, Niagara District Council member.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW
We continue our Rachmaninoff Festival with two of his masterpieces. Rachmaninoff’s Piano Concerto No. 2 was written after a very difficult period of “composer’s block,” and he was able to recover from that depression with the help of a music-loving therapist, who used hypnotism to cure him. This extraordinary concerto was the first piece that Rachmaninoff wrote when he came back to his creative self, and he dedicated it to Dr. Nikolai Dahl for “saving his life.” We feel so fortunate that Fabio Bidini, our beloved friend, is back with us to play this gorgeous work.

The program includes another Romantic-era treasure, Rachmaninoff’s second symphony—perhaps the most romantic and songful symphony ever composed. We feel very happy to have the privilege of sharing the music of this cherished composer, and the knowledge that he played on (and loved) our Kleinhans stage makes the music even more special to Buffalo.

PROGRAM NOTES

Sergei Rachmaninoff
(Russian; 1873-1943)

Concerto No. 2 in C minor for Piano and Orchestra, Op. 18
   I. Moderato
   II. Adagio sostenuto
   III. Allegro scherzando

Composed 1901; Duration: 32 minutes

First BPO performance: November 18, 1935 (C. Gordon Watkins, piano; Lajos Shuk, conductor)

Last BPO performance: March 7-8, 2020 (Konrad Skolarski, piano; JoAnn Falletta, conductor)

The premiere of the promising young composer’s first symphony in 1897 was an utter catastrophe. Alexander Glazunov conducted an ill-prepared orchestra while drunk, and Rachmaninoff left before the performance was over, preparing himself for an inevitable onslaught of cutting reviews. The bereft composer fell into a years-long bout of depression, affected by alcoholism, money problems, and a general disinterest in composing.

Rachmaninoff’s family was desperate for a solution to pull him out of his despondent writer’s block when they organized sessions with Nikolai Dahl, who specialized in hypnosis, and whose methods were successful in reversing his mental state. Time spent in Italy may have also played a role in reviving the composer, who enthusiastically began work on a new concerto during an extended visit.

All but the first movement completed, he performed a partial premiere of the work in 1900 with his cousin debuting as a conductor. The scene was a nervous one for all involved, but the performance was received with adoration, prompting Rachmaninoff to finish the work, eventually premiering it in full the following year. Without the financial and emotional support from his friends and family, Rachmaninoff may have languished. Instead, his despondency broken, the second piano concerto propelled him to international fame and remains a stalwart member of the repertoire.

Tolling bells appear out of silence in the concerto’s opening, growing to an oscillating piano accompaniment to the orchestra’s brooding theme. The piano performs the second theme, which by contrast, aches with optimism. The anxious development borrows bits from both themes, returning to the opening theme with the pianist now presenting a marching accompaniment. The heavy C minor that concludes the opening movement initiates the second, with a series of chords shifting to peaceful E major with a flute introducing an intimate melody. The rhythmic motion continues into the B section, which provides a tense, mysterious contrast, energetically billows into a cadenza, and is bookended by the opening music.

In the finale, Rachmaninoff again borrows the previous movement’s key, and through a wry orchestral introduction, transitions from E major back to C minor. A march-like theme is followed by intense figurations by the soloist. A second theme emerges, now in a lyrical B-flat. The tumultuous development fixates on the first theme and arrives at an abbreviated recapitulation that overcomes the ominous opening bells to achieve a triumphant C major conclusion.

Symphony No. 2 in E minor, Op. 27

I. Largo – Allegro moderato
II. Allegro molto
III. Adagio
IV. Allegro vivace

Composed 1907; Duration: 43 minutes

First BPO performance: November 5 & 7, 1950 (William Steinberg, conductor)

Last BPO performance: October 10-11, 2014 (JoAnn Falletta, conductor)

The dark introduction rises from the depths of the orchestra, and winding fragments coalesce into a swelling, cascading melody. The music fades into a lonely English horn solo that acts as a bridge to the Allegro. Here, the theme is derived from the opening figures, but has signature Rachmaninoff mystery, and is contrasted by a breezy second theme. The development builds with stormy tension as it shifts through multiple tonal centers but settles into a reprisal of the opening music. The sunny recapitulation is not permanent, as the brooding storm returns to close the movement.

The scherzo is a dashing night ride with galloping string rhythms supporting a rousing melody that the violins and winds trade off. A solo clarinet introduces the first diversion that is lyrical with a sense of wonder, followed by a return of the opening sprint. The middle trio is abrupt with staccato strings in chaotic counterpoint, until brass and percussion join with a march. The scherzo form of the movement calls back the opening ride, the lyrical music, and a final flight with a foreboding conclusion.

The lyrical opening of the Adagio is introductory, with a lengthy clarinet solo presenting the primary theme. Rachmaninoff’s inventive, rhythmically pianistic accompaniments are present here, creating unceasing momentum for his lush melodies. The bucolic middle section is a warm wind feature but invites a tutti climax. The opening material returns for meditative treatment with its own swelling climax and a calming retreat.

The finale swells with liveliness as the orchestra spills over with jubilant fanfares. The scene is interrupted by a hushed march. An extensive second theme is richly lyrical. The development section recalls the first theme, but new music is introduced alongside references to previous movements. Descending figures layer with intensity to land on a section of development on the movement’s first theme. The dark transition makes way for a blissful atmosphere, eventually arriving at an impassioned E major presentation of the lyrical second theme. The exhilarating final bars express an inescapable success over the grim opening E minor, for a triumphant and joyous exclamation.

ARRIVAL FROM SWEDEN

ARRIVAL from Sweden was founded by Vicky Zetterberg in 1995 in Gothenburg, Sweden, and very soon became one of the world's most popular and most selling ABBA show bands. Since the start in 1995, the band has toured in over 70 countries, done 82 successful USA tours, and has appeared in several TV and radio shows all over the world, selling out arenas seated up to 50,000 people. The ABBA fan club considers ARRIVAL “the closest you will ever get to ABBA!” ABBA hits are delivered with such accuracy that it's hard to believe it's not the real ABBA on stage.

ARRIVAL has also played with more than 100 symphony orchestras throughout the world, including successful shows with some of the finest orchestras in the USA such as the Boston, San Francisco, Dallas, Houston, and Atlanta symphony orchestras.

ARRIVAL is the only group that has been given a previously unreleased ABBA song directly from Björn Ulvaeus and Benny Andersson of ABBA. The song “Just A Notion” was released by ARRIVAL from Sweden in 1999, and was yet again released by the original ABBA in 2021 on their latest record, Voyage.

This production has all the features a great ABBA show needs: lovely costumes, extremely talented musicians, and breathtaking singers. Millions of people all around the world celebrate this show as the best ABBA show in the world. In fact, this is the only ABBA show the world needs.

Musical arrangements are by ARRIVAL from Sweden, the late Mr. Rutger Gunnarsson, ABBA string arranger and bass player, and the famous arranger Tommy Hansson, made after ABBA original arrangements.

JAY WHITE, SOLOIST

Jay White's Sweet Caroline Tour is a Neil Diamond Concert Celebration starring the #1 Diamond performer in the world – Jay White. It is without question the most authentic Neil Diamond concert experience on the planet. Conceived in response to Mr. Diamond’s retirement from the concert stage and the huge demand from audiences worldwide to enjoy the music of the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame icon in a live music setting, Jay pays homage to Neil Diamond by performing the hits and beloved gems you know and love, with the same energy and artistry Neil delivered over his incredible 50-year career.

For over three decades, Jay White has performed more than 10,000 concerts around the world reflecting the stage persona of an American music legend. Each expression of every Neil Diamond song performed by Jay evokes the power and the passion of a live Diamond performance.

Jay is grateful that his years of dedication and devotion have convinced tens of thousands of Diamond fans that he is the closest thing to the real deal – and he’s also humbled to have been acknowledged and embraced by Neil, Neil’s family, and band for performing the Brooklyn-born singer-songwriter’s music live in concert in the most respectful, convincing way possible. Jay stated: “Neil’s kindness and acceptance has always been greatly appreciated, and I’m honored to have appeared with him on his Stages box set DVD. Now, more than ever, I will continue to pay homage through each and every performance to the man who has meant so much to so many, for so long. Especially me.”

KRISTEN ANDERSON-LOPEZ & ROBERT LOPEZ, SONGWRITERS

Kristen Anderson-Lopez and Robert Lopez are the Oscar, Grammy, and Emmy-winning married songwriting team behind the Disney animated films, Frozen and Frozen 2. Together they also wrote the Oscar-winning song “Remember Me” from Pixar’s Coco, and songs for Marvel’s WandaVision (Emmy Award win for “Agatha All Along”). They wrote songs for the Obamas’ series We the People, and adapted Frozen for the Broadway stage. Robert co-conceived and co-wrote the hit musicals Avenue Q and The Book of Mormon, both earning him Tony Awards. Kristen’s show In Transit made history as the first all a cappella musical to run on Broadway, after an award-winning off-Broadway run. They have written for television, film, and stage, including Finding Nemo: The Musical, songs for “The Wonder Pets” (two Emmy Award wins), and the Winnie the Pooh animated film. Anderson-Lopez and Lopez both serve on the Dramatist Guild Council. Graduates of Yale University and Williams College, respectively, they now reside in Brooklyn with their two daughters.

CHRISTOPHE BECK, COMPOSER

Christophe Beck is a world-renowned film and TV composer who has defined the sound of iconic films including Frozen, The Muppets, and Pitch Perfect. Alongside his Emmy-winning work on the cult classic series Buffy the Vampire Slayer, Beck is notable for his high-profile blockbuster action features and series including the Ant-Man trilogy starring Paul Rudd, Shazam! Fury of the Gods, Percy Jackson and the Lightning Thief, the Disney+ series Hawkeye, and Marvel Studios’ WandaVision – which received four nominations for Best Original Score from the HMMA, WSA, SCL, and the primetime Emmy Awards. His collaboration with acclaimed director Doug Liman resulted in two high-grossing action features starring Tom Cruise: Edge of Tomorrow and American Made. Beck’s catalogue of blockbuster action comedies include the Warner Bros. feature Due Date, as well as Date Night and Free Guy, directed by Shawn Levy.

Beck’s diverse body of work also includes acclaimed dramas such as McG’s We Are Marshall, Under the Tuscan Sun starring Diane Lane, Shana Feste’s romantic drama Endless Love, Good Kill starring Ethan Hawke, and the indie feature Saved! starring Jena Malone, Mandy Moore, and Macaulay Culkin. Most recently, Beck scored the Netflix produced docuseries Arnold, as well as the animated feature Nimona, which were both featured on Netflix’s Top 10. He also wrote music for Up Here, a musical rom-com developed by Academy Award-winning songwriters Kristen Anderson-Lopez and Robert Lopez.

The Canadian composer studied music at Yale and attended the USC film scoring program under the tutelage of composers such as Jerry Goldsmith. He started composing in television at the personal recommendation of the Disney music legend, Buddy Baker.

PLANNED GIVING
Musical Heritage Society

We are pleased to list the current members herein because they have realized the importance of “the gift that keeps giving.” Each of these individuals or couples have made provisions for a contribution to the BPO in their estate plans and while there are many different methods, the most common is by adding the BPO as a beneficiary in one’s will.
